Adobe Photoshop has both a free and a paid version. If you want the full version, you have to pay a monthly fee but it's a really good deal and you will most likely use Photoshop for a long time. If you want to use Photoshop free, the standard package is great, but you'll miss some of the more advanced features and learning curve. However, a Photoshop CC 2018 Student offer will give you access to lots of cool features for free. If you've already got Photoshop CS6, you can upgrade to Photoshop CC for free. You'll get all the new features from the full version but most importantly you get a 90-day trial. Install Adobe Photoshop

CC 2018 If you don't already have Photoshop on your computer, you can download the full version for free from Adobe's website. Once the software has finished installing, launch Photoshop Elements and click the Sign In button at the bottom of the screen. Alternatively, you can also download Adobe Photoshop Elements version 13, but you'll have to buy it in the Windows Store. Learn Photoshop CC 2018 for free To start using Photoshop you'll need to sign up to the Creative Cloud service for free. Once you've signed up, you can purchase a subscription to use Photoshop until the end of your trial period. To get started with Photoshop elements, click New in the main menu to create a new document or open an existing one. Next, you'll need to sign in to your Adobe ID if you already have an account. You can also sign up for an account online. Once you've signed in, you can select a template on the left-hand side of the screen for your new document. Let's take a look at the starter template. In the new document window, you have a canvas at the top, a set of tools at the bottom, and a blank space at the sides where you can insert your image. You can also crop, rotate, and resize your image before going on to the next step. Let's change our template to Photo and resize it to 300 pixels wide and 110 pixels high. We can also crop our image here to keep only the photos of our wedding. You can then add any text, and add a sketch or photo frame to your wedding photo to make it 05a79cecff

Q: Animate XML nodes I have the following xml 1 2 3 And I have this JS code. `function Animate(xml){ var i = 0; $('child').each(function(){ $this = $(this); $('level', $this).each(function(index, value){ $this.find('level:eq(' + i + ')').attr('class','level'); i++; }); }); $('child').animate({height: '100px'}, 1000); }` What this does is that it adds a class level to the levels and then animates the node. Now what I would like to achieve is that the level nodes before the current level are set to level and then it animates them after the current level is animated. So for example if the current level is 3 the parent node of 2 and 1 should be set to level. And the levels from 2 and 1 should then animate. How can I do this? A: You could use `$this.find('level').addClass('level')` `function Animate(xml){ var i = 0; $('child').each(function(){ $this = $(this); $('level', $this).each(function(index, value){ $this.find('level:eq(' + i + ')').addClass('level'); i++; }); }); $('child').animate({height: '100px'}, 1000); }`

May we all have a happy and healthy 2018. Here's a list of the albums I made a playlist for this year. Enjoy! And because I made the list, you don't have to. I'm letting you know that there's a Spotify playlist with my favorite songs from 2017, but here's an Amazon Link for you to buy the music or album you like. 1. "Plastic Beach" – Halo of Flies She's hipped me to Halo of Flies. I mean, I've only heard this song, but I'm sure they're going to be releasing an album soon, right? They're already halfway into the process, so we're definitely going to get more of this song at least. 2. "Amity" – Blood Red Shoes Blood Red Shoes is not a band. They are however a band I will proclaim a friend of mine for life. Too bad I'll probably never see them live. 3. "Fifty Lashes" – Post Malone Post Malone has seriously blown up this year. I can't wait to see what he does next. 4. "Burn My Bridges" – Jessie Ware 5. "Scream" – Joan Baez 6. "Palace" – Chelsea Grin Chelsea Grin has a cool image with their music, so hopefully they grow and turn into a hardcore band. 7. "Nothing Personal" – The Offspring 8. "No Peace, No War" – Bad Omens 9. "Heavy Metal" – Seasick 10. "Que Sera, Sera" – Dua Lipa 11. "Sooner or Later" – Daniel Merriweather 12.
